

ECONOMICS (ECN)

ECN 3100 Intermediate Macroeconomics (4)

This course uses the tools of macroeconomics to study various macroeconomic problems in-depth. The problems range from economic growth in the long run, to government finances in the intermediate run, and economic stability in the short run. Many mathematical techniques and economic models are applied. Falls.

Prerequisite(s): BUS 1400 or EC 2550 and EC 2560, and MA 2200 or MA 2210.

ECN 3200 Intermediate Microeconomics (4)

Microeconomic theory is a branch of economics that concerns with how individuals (and firms) make choices when facing constraints and how these choices affect the allocation of scarce resources. It is based on the notion that consumers and firms have well defined objectives (e.g., maximizing utility or profits) and behave systematically according to the incentives within the constraints of their economic environment. Springs.

Prerequisite(s): BUS 1400, or EC 2550 and EC 2560.

ECN 3300 Managerial Statistics (4)

This course is designed to help you understand the application of statistics and economic theory to managerial planning and business decision-making.
